Bad News: Aaron Rodgers went the Joe Rogan route. Emerging as the only upside option in KC. 27.4 last week on 18 targets. Left plenty of meat on the bone. Love Deebs and may get him at 10% ownership due to price, health and return of Kittle. Risky but upside exists. Still awaiting explosion. JM pointed out that Diggs lack of TDs is not fluke. He isn't targeted there like other studs. I will always be checking my allocations to ensure I'm over the field on this man. Ownership + upside makes him an obvious tournament piece for me. Qand his presence is a huge factor in the lives of many. Corning in low-owned on a week where paying up to be contrarian is very do-able Questionable per usualbut this one seems more questionable than the previous questionables. Game sets up well for him and he'll be low owned. I like secondary stacks with Marquise Brown Decent floor play if you're one of those boring people who play cash games. I may have him in some stacks though Love the player but prefer different options this week due to game environment. Has alpha upside in a game that could shoot out. Return of Tyrod makes Cooks attractive. Has become Lamar's favorite end zone target and can score from anywhere when he fucking catches it. His matchup isn't great on paper so it's fortunate that people play football on more grassy surfaces. Should be super low owned because he's a playing Buffalo and priced next to Cooper. Probably chalk but hard to fade at this price, especially if Lamb sits. Would have thought DFS players would be on him this week despite last week's goose egg. Projections say otherwise. All data points to a very high floor. Not allergic to the end zone either.

Has alpha upside in a game that could shoot out. Return of Tyrod makes Cooks attractive. Has become Lamar's favorite end zone target and can score from anywhere when he fucking catches it. His matchup isn't great on paper so it's fortunate that people play football on more grassy surfaces. Should be super low owned because he's a playing Buffalo and priced next to Cooper. Probably chalk but hard to fade at this price, especially if Lamb sits. Would have thought DFS players would be on him this week despite last week's goose egg. Projections say otherwise.
